

Luniverre Gallery now has a new location at 146 Bellevue Avenue (north west corner of Memorial Blvd). On Saturday August 14, 2010 there will be an opening show called - "FLAMING CIRCUS" featuring three new artists who all specialize in the glass technique known as flameworking.

JAY BRIDGELAND from San Francisco, ALICE MANZI from New York, and JULIE DENTON a British artist from Zurich, Switzerland. Marianne Spottswood, the owner of Luniverre, will also be showing her sandcast glass sculpture along with resident artist Neal Drobnis, Sylvie Belanger, from Canada, Regis Anchuello, from France, and Peter Layton, from England.

Marianne also has a gallery in France in the medieval hill top town of Cordes sur Ciel (listed by UNESCO as a Historical Site). One hour from Toulouse surrounded by the beautiful GAILLAC vineyards and home to FOIE GRAS. Both the former and the latter founded by the Romans during their colonization of Southwest France!

A bientot!
